World Heritage in Norway
Rjukan-Notodden
Industrial site

Welcome to Vemork.
Norway would never have been the same without it.

The Heavy Water Cellar

Take a tour and see the result of the operation that changed history.

The Machine Hall

See what was once the throbbing heart of the world's largest power plant.

Heroes of Telemark

Four military operations. Countless heroic deeds. See the exhibition at Vemork.

Our life in world heritage

The story of Rjukan and Notodden is described as a modern fairy tale. In this exhibition, you'll find out why.

The Industrial Adventure with Sam and Sara

Sam and Sara invite the children on a fun and educational journey in the World Heritage Site.

Café Vemork

Enjoy a tasty lunch, coffee and cake while taking in the spectacular views.

Photo: Tomræs Wæcker/NIA

One winter night in February 1943, a group of Norwegian special forces soldiers risked their lives in the heavy water cellar. Now the same area is open to you.

Follow in the feet of heroes. Stand where the heroes stood. See the result of the operation that changed history.
Welcome.

VISIT THE WORLD HERITAGE CENTRE

"We're building the future," said Sam Eyde. Little did he and Kristian Birkeland know about the role Vemork would play in both Norwegian and world history.

More than 100 years ago, Notodden and Rjukan were the arena for a modern adventure. Today, they are one of the few UNESCO world heritage sites in Norway. At the World Heritage Centre, you will find out why.

The World Heritage Centre has visitor sites at Vemork and Telemark Art Museum. At Vemork you can see the exhibition "Our life in world heritage".
